Sherwood Davis Is Appointed as Defense Director

Served in Army as Captain With Eisenhower, Was With A.M.C. in Europe

SHERWOOD E. DAVIS

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk today announced the appointment of Sherwood E. Davis of Richmond Park, local attorney, as local civilian defense director.

A veteran of World War 2, Davis saw duty with General Eisenhower's staff, Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Forces. He was in the service four years and was 36 months overseas.

Currently a vice president of the Reserve Officers Association of Ulster County, he is active in local American Legion affairs. He received his B.A. degree, Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and LL.B., New York University. He was commissioned in the field artillery in 1942. He served as captain in the American military government.

Officials Probe Fatal Dog Beating

Kerhons Animal Was Valued at $400; Man Lost Two Others

State police and the Ulster County S.P.C.A. are investigating a case in which a valued dog owned by a Kerhons man died as the result of a beating.

Authorities were called by the dog's owner, Richard J. Doyle, who said his registered Plott-hound died under mysterious circumstances Friday. Doyle said that when he returned from work last Tuesday he found his dog apparently ill, and immediately placed him in the care of a veterinarian.

When the dog died Friday, Eugene Chilson and Ray Winne, S.P.C.A. agents, ordered an autopsy, and, after Dr. Charles B. Freer, veterinarian, declared that the dog's carcass showed unmistakable signs that it had been beaten to death, a full scale investigation was begun. State police of the Wurtsboro substation were notified and promised assistance in the investigation.

Doyle valued the Plott-hound at $400. He said that he recently lost two other dogs, one of which had been shot and the other beaten to death.

State police said any person found guilty of beating the dog to death faces a charge of cruelty to animals, a misdemeanor.

Two Men Are Fined $500 in Policy Cases

Hudson, N. Y., July 28 (AP)—Two men were fined $500 each and given suspended sentences of one year in jail after they pleaded guilty today to charges of operating policy games.

They were Benjamin Goldstein, 52, and Fred McGraw, 45, both of Hudson. Sherwood W. Howard, 49, of Hudson was fined $50 today, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of permitting his house to be used for a lottery.

Goldstein and McGraw had originally been charged with conspiring, planning and operating a lottery, a felony charge. They were sentenced today on misdemeanor charges of operating policy games.

The three men were taken into custody July 18 when state police arrested 13 persons in 25 raids in Columbia county.

Used Car Dealers Must Drop 'New'

Two-Way Protection Aim of Regulation; Once Sold It's Altered

Albany, N. Y., July 28 (AP)—The State Bureau of Motor Vehicles has ordered used car dealers not to use the word "new" without qualification in advertising automobiles for sale.

They may advertise "practically new" or "almost new" cars, a bureau spokesman said today. They must not advertise "new" cars, even though in fact they are new, and have been driven only a few miles.

The bureau also has ordered authorized new car dealers not to use an unqualified "new" in advertising for sale a make of car not covered by their franchise. The bureau said that any car that has been registered in this state, or elsewhere, or which has been "sold, bargained, exchanged or transferred to any person other than a new car dealer" no longer is a new car, but a used car.

The bureau spokesman said the regulations were adopted to protect the buying public and franchise new car dealers.

Here's what the regulation says concerning automobile advertising:

"A new car dealer is authorized to advertise new or used vehicles. A new car dealer is a dealer holding a franchise granted by a manufacturer or a sales agreement with a franchised dealer authorized to appoint sub-dealers."

"A new car dealer shall not use the word 'new' unqualified, in advertising vehicles for sale, except (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Most Modern Hospital Care Desired, Survey Indicates

First analysis of returns in the survey of public opinion, begun last week by the community relations committee of The Kingston Hospital, strongly indicated that residents of this area want the most modern hospital care, even though costs be increased. This was announced today by John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., president of the hospital's board of trustees.

More than 97 per cent of those whose replies to survey questionnaires have been tabulated to date, he reported, have given affirmative answers to the question: "Do you think that the hospital care offered this area should be kept abreast of the most advanced medical practice, even though costs be increased?"

George Hutton Is Elected Member Of Hospital Board

Brick Manufacturer Has Long Record of Local Civic Affairs Activity

GEORGE V. D. HUTTON

George V. D. Hutton, 203 Manor avenue, president-treasurer of The Hutton Co., brick manufacturers, was named a member of the Board of Trustees of Kingston Hospital at a recent meeting.

The new trustee was educated in local public schools, attended Kingston Academy, Phillips-Exeter School, New Hampshire and received his B.A. degree from Williams College.

Long active in local civic affairs, he had served on the local education board and the welfare board. He was with the N. S. Army Renegotiation of War Contracts, a consultant on the War Production Board and represented Structural Clay Products on that board.

A member of the board of the Rondout Savings Bank, he also serves on the Board of Visitors, New Paltz State Teachers College, and recently ended a term as president of the Brick Manufacturers Association of New York State. He has also been on the board of the National Structural Clay Products.

Parking Restricted On Parade Route

Police Captain William T. Roedel, who heads the local department in the absence of Police Chief Raymond Van Buren, now on vacation, today announced parking restrictions along the line of march and detour routes during tomorrow's parade of county firemen.

Parking will be prohibited on East Strand, both sides, between Broadway and Ferry street, where the first division of the parade will form.

Along the line of march parking will not be allowed on either side of Broadway from McEntee to Chester street; on Broadway, both sides, between Andrew and O'Reilly streets, where the grand stand will be located, and on Albany avenue between Broadway and Clinton avenue, both sides.

The parade will counter-march at this point. Parking will also be restricted on the east side of Clinton avenue from North Front to Pearl streets.

Special signs will inform the public of detours. Traffic headed south on Route 9W will travel over Hasbrouck avenue to East Union to Wurts street and the bridge, and the reverse for the north-bound.

Traffic for Routes 209, The Ontario Trail (Route 28) and Route 32 (South) will be diverted over Abel street to Wilbur and Greenkill avenues and to Washington avenue, and the reverse for south-bound traffic.

Russia May Act Soon if U.S. Is Loser

Officials Say Kremlin Is Watching Struggle as Indication of When to Take Action

Must Show Well

Can't Afford to Lose in Korea, Prove Slow in Arming

Washington, July 28 (AP)—The government is racing against time to win the Korean conflict and arm for possible war with Russia—with full knowledge that a continued poor U. S. showing in one could easily bring on the other.

When might Russia drop her mask and step openly into war? The guess by some highly placed officials is three years. Others, at equally high level, think the time could be less.

Russia is watching us in Korea to see how we fight. We are fighting badly now. If the final showing is the same, the Kremlin may not wait three years.

Also, the time estimate could be wrong. We were wrong in our guess about how soon Russia could make its first atomic bomb.

The administration reportedly is taking now about a $55,000,000 outlay in this fiscal year, which began July 1. That would include money for fighting the current war, for building up against the mounting menace of another, bigger one; for making the free European nations stronger, militarily and economically, by giving them more arms aid and more economic help.

Manpower Is Problem

One of the major problems is manpower. Here the feel of urgency is really apparent. Last Tuesday, President Truman, in asking Congress for a $10,500,000,000 supplemental military appropriation, said that among other things it would provide for 600,000 more men in the armed forces. That figure may well turn out to be higher.

Indicating an upward revision there is the hike in the number of men the government intends to draft. It started off on July 10 with a modest plan to call 20,000. Today it wants 100,000 inductees called up during September and October—a sudden increase of 80,000.

New Draft Call May Come in 1950

Would Boost Its Strength to 800,000 Mark by December 31

Washington, July 28 (AP)—The army, already slated to get 100,000 draftees by October 30, may follow up with at least one more draft call before the end of the year to boost its strength near the 800,000 mark.

While the air force and the navy are waiting to see if volunteers will fill their combined 340,000-man quota, the army made clear yesterday that it is relying heavily on the Selective Service Act to meet its manpower needs.

It boosted its September draft call from 20,000 to 50,000 and said it would call up another 50,000 men in October.

Even this increased total would fall short of bringing the ground forces to their 800,000-man goal. Army manpower on June 30—the last date for which figures will be released—was about 551,000.

In addition to the army, the United States is building, as swiftly as possible toward an air force of 549,000 and a navy of 579,000—for a total military strength of 1,927,000 within the next few months. By next June this is expected to climb to 2,300,000.

Enlistment Order Signed

In a move to stabilize the military force, President Truman yesterday signed an executive order extending for 12 months all enlistments in the armed services. This affects nearly 300,000 enlistments due to expire before June 30, 1951.

Of this number 44,000 are in the Pacific Theatre.

The rest of the list in the county and city is as was previously announced. Registration in the Millard building, Kingston, for Board 18, is from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. on all week days.

Baruch's Plan Loses by One Vote When Truman Bill Is Voted

Washington, July 28 (AP)—Considerable support in Congress for a drive to put the country under rationing and wage and price control was in evidence today.

The idea is to substitute full homefront mobilization for President Truman's limited economic control bill.

The House Banking Committee approved the President's plan, 20 to 1, late yesterday, but only after it failed by a one-vote margin to take instead the all-out economic control plan proposed by elder statesman Bernard M. Baruch.

The Baruch plan lost 10 to 9. Six Republicans and three Democrats supported it. Nine Democrats and one Republican opposed it.

Rep. Kunkel (R.-Pa.) author of the all-out substitute, announced immediately he will take the fight to the House floor when the bill comes up there next Tuesday. His measure would roll back prices to their lowest level between July 24 and 28.

Powerful support gathered behind the Baruch plan. One high-placed Democrat said it might pass the House.

Chairman Vinson (D.-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee said "I am for the Baruch plan. Otherwise there will be inflation, absolutely out of control."

Sales Run Higher

Meanwhile, the Federal Reserve Board reported that department store sales last week ran 46 per cent higher than in the same week last year. Never before has such a large increase been recorded. Week before last the increase over 1949's corresponding week was 25 per cent.

Also, the Agriculture Department said that sugar sales by primary distributors jumped 37 per cent in the first three weeks of July as compared with the same 1949 period.

The department announced that, while there is already plenty of sugar, the government will buy remaining Cuban stock. It said this will give the U. S. a total marketable supply of more than 10 million tons.

Hoover Gives Rules on Help To Curb Saboteurs in Nation

Washington, July 28 (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover told Americans today how, in seven ways, they can help the F.B.I. curb saboteurs and other domestic enemies in the present military emergency.

The first and most important step: Call the F.B.I. quickly with any information you have.

Hoover emphasized that his F.B.I. is not interested in malicious gossip or idle rumors, nor in "what a person thinks." But, he said, it most specifically wants facts on actions which undermine internal security.

President Truman called on the American public last Monday to channel any information on spying, sabotage or other subversive activities to the F.B.I.

Like the White House, the F.B.I. cautioned against private attempts to investigate evidence of such activity, saying it should be left to the highly organized F.B.I. machinery which is set up for that purpose.

The Hoover statement noted that a close system of cooperation between the Federal Bureau and law enforcement agencies throughout the nation is already functioning in this field.

"The internal security of the United States can be assured," the director asserted, "with the cooperation, aid and assistance of every law-abiding person in our nation."

For the general public, he made these suggestions: "1. The F.B.I. is as near to you as your telephone. The first page of every telephone book in the country lists the nearest office of (Continued on Page 14, Col. 8)

Battle May Determine Korean War

Armored Onslaught Is Made Against Center of American Lines at Yongdong

Covers 200 Miles

Fighting Stretches Over Great Area; Enemy Supplies Hit

Tokyo, Saturday, July 29 (AP)—Red North Korean invaders threw a savage armored attack at American divisions today in a decisive battle for the remaining U. S. foothold in South Korea.

The North Korean Reds were attacking in the rain along the whole front with an estimated 80,000 men in nine divisions.

The heaviest blows were dealt against the greatly outnumbered American forces in the west-central sector northeast and southeast of Yongdong.

General MacArthur's early-morning summary said "a savage fire fight" was in progress, with concentrated assaults on the U. S. First Cavalry Division area south-east of Yongdong.

The first cavalry foot troopers lost some ground in the Ilwangan vicinity, 15 miles east of Yongdong, but were last reported holding firm against three enemy divisions.

Twenty miles farther northeast, elements of the Red 15th Division drove a small wedge between the U. S. 25th Division and the South Korean Sixth Division near Ichon village. MacArthur's announcement said. Efforts were being made to restore the breach.

A First Cavalry Division spokesman in the field said the great Red onslaught covered the entire front of about 200 twisting miles. He said this battle was critical.

Fighting without much direct air support because of the water, the Americans drove to har the point where the invaders were unable to continue a war of attrition. He called the next few days "extremely important" from the Communist point of view.

An American counterattack was made Friday afternoon in an attempt to ease pressure on the front sector. But A. P. correspondents G. H. P. King reported it was not on as big a scale as originally ordered. There were no immediate reports on how it fared. King did not explain why it was on so small a scale.

The Red attack was launched and maintained under the heaviest concentration of artillery and mortar fire of the five weeks old war.

One veteran of Normandy and the battle of the bulge in World War 2 called it "more artillery than I ever saw before."

American artillery was replying with both high-explosive and anti-personnel fire.

In the far south, where the Reds for several days have been advancing with small foot tank forces, they gathered another ten miles along undefended roads. This carried them within about 60 miles of Pusan, the all-important American supply port at the southeast tip of Korea across from the Japan supply source.

"Is Under Control"

A Tokyo headquarters spokesman said, however, "the southwestern situation is completely under control."

Along the west-central front, astride the road and railroad leading down to Taegu and Pusan that the decisive engagement was being fought out.

As the North Koreans launched their highest overall offensive, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Plans Are Made For New Section Of State Thruway

Plans are in progress for the letting of a contract by the State Public Works Department for the section of the Catskill Thruway between Saugerties and Kingston, it was announced today.

Disaster Project Red Cross Subject At Local Meeting

At a meeting of chapter chairmen and executives from three counties this week, the special disaster project of the Red Cross was discussed.

The session in the local chapter house, 308 Clinton avenue was attended by representatives from Ulster, Greene and Dutchess counties.

Mrs. Dorothy B. Fasanella, general field representative with the eastern area headquarters in Alexandria, Va., conducted the discussion and pointed out that the disaster project has a dual purpose.

One is to strengthen the disaster program of the chapter by mustering all the manpower and experience of all chapter services, as part of the disaster team.

The other is to intensify the interpretation of the Red Cross disaster program to all the organization's personnel, related agencies and groups and to the public at large.

Particular emphasis was placed on the rehabilitation phases of the work as the most important.

Mrs. Fasanella stressed the need for chapter volunteers as well as the care needed in the selection, placement and training of volunteers.

Plans for the establishment of a regional center for the national biometric program and chapter participation in furthering these plans were outlined.

G. Wallace Codwise, chairman, and Mrs. Walter K. Hubbard, executive director, of the local chapter plan to attend the next group meeting to be held in Newburgh in September.

Local Death Record

Marvin Van Demark of West Shokan died in Kingston today. Surviving are his wife Celeste Van Demark, nee Krom, and a daughter Gladys Van Demark. The body is resting at the Gormley Funeral Home in Phoenixia. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Autopsy Ordered On Woman's Body

Red Hook, N. Y., July 28 (AP)—An autopsy was ordered today on the body of Mrs. Josephine Salo, 66, found dead in a car following a minor automobile accident.

Dr. L. Edward Cotter, Dutchess county deputy medical examiner, ordered the autopsy after a preliminary examination showed no apparent injury.

He said Mrs. Salo, of Buskirk, N. Y., was in a car driven by her husband, Peter, when the car hit the rear of another vehicle on Route 9, and then swerved into a curb.

Salo said he was taking his wife to hospital in New York city for an operation when the accident occurred.

Maverick Plays Much Enjoyed

Woodstock, July 28—Presenting the two plays, "Arta de Capo" by Edna St. Vincent Millay, and "Don Perlimpin" and "Bellina," which first introduced the Loft Players to Woodstock last March at the Art Gallery, the group again won enthusiastic applause from the audience Thursday night at the Maverick Theatre.

"Arta de Capo" is a harlequinade, a brief moment of swift glances at the folly of man, while "Don Perlimpin" is concerned with the tragedy of an aging nobleman of Spain. Both productions benefit by the full stage production as compared to last spring's rather cramped presentation of the limitations of the Art Gallery. Both sets and lighting had greater scope, depth and quality.

On Saturday afternoon, July 29, the first of the shows to be presented this season by the Berkeley Marionettes will be "Master Skylark" to be given at 2:15 p. m.

Library Fair Nets $3,775 Thursday

Woodstock, July 28—There was no doubt about it, Thursday in Woodstock was kids day and although their parents and grandparents were at the annual library fair in full round numbers, it was the youngsters who held full sway. Consequently, an atmosphere of youthful exuberance exuded from every corner of the fair grounds and filled the library's coffers with a tidy $3,775, with only a few bills left to be paid. This considerably topped last year's $3,423.

At 4 p. m. a lively auction of fine objects was the center of attraction with number of handsome items going at a good price. One of the new and highly successful features was the midway where games abounded and here the milling throng of youngsters kept up ceaseless activity throughout the afternoon. With a puppet show at intervals and a hot dog, soda pop and ice cream counters nearby, there was plenty to fill their big round eyes as well as the copious stomachs.

Out back a steady path was beaten by small feet to the pony ring where the tiny animals and pony cart provided a new thrill for the small fry who swarmed to see the animals in hand about the entrance waiting for a turn about the ring.

Both children and adults alike began to cluster early in the afternoon around the Woodstock Chambers Orchestra and a ceaseless flow of coins kept the musicians hard at work with few respite until closing time.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE
An Advanced Hot Spot in Korea (AP)—This is a quick letter to any G.I. who went through the second World War and wants to know what things are like here.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE
A soldier is tied by the laws of his job to an attitude of respect toward the brass above him. When it comes down to actual fighting, each soldier makes up his own mind about his weapon. In most cases he must believe in his weapon—if he wants to fight well. Faith is as necessary in warfare as it is in peace, or more so.

Well, on this first visit to the front I made with Bill Lawrence of the New York Times and Hal Levine of Newsweek Magazine. On our way to a forward artillery battery we passed two dead men being ferried out of a jeep. One was a lieutenant killed by the mine he had laid himself.

Then we came to a creek bed swept by artillery or tank fire. Two men in the battery area were wounded seriously by this mysterious enemy fire. Near Yongdong, an area we held then.

A third man was hurt by a shell burst some 75 yards from us. We offered to bring up our jeep to evacuate him but an ambulance came, along before we could get our jeep. I will never forget the look of gratitude on the face of the freckled kid when we first offered to take his wounded buddy to the nearest aid station.

War is still about the same, Joe. Its only claim to glory is that it teaches you a softness to ward their problems.

The rest is sound and fury. Sometimes I will try to explain why.

But the world we live in today depends on young men being ready to defend it. Joe, it is your poor beaten-up world to build up again.

First Day's Visit
Just to let you know what things are I will tell you what happened to me in my first day's visit to the front.

We took a roughly about a 160-mile round trip to get to the front and back. It was encouraging to see the mass American muscle moving up. The rock-ribbed roads had old stones sticking up through them. Dust rose in gray clouds so thick that at midday ammunition trucks turned their lights on to warn jeeps out of their way.

And the Korean railway trains went by loaded with enlisted boys who fought both by order and by personal loyalty to the buddy next to them.

Old Fight Together
But they did fight together—19-year-old privates and 40-year-old sergeants with almost 25 years of regular army service.

Soldiers live and fight by their faith in their weapons—they have to believe that their weapons are good in battle, to believe that they are good in battle themselves.

A soldier is tied by the laws of his job to an attitude of respect toward the brass above him. When it comes down to actual fighting, each soldier makes up his own mind about his weapon. In most cases he must believe in his weapon—if he wants to fight well. Faith is as necessary in warfare as it is in peace, or more so.

Well, on this first visit to the front I made with Bill Lawrence of the New York Times and Hal Levine of Newsweek Magazine. On our way to a forward artillery battery we passed two dead men being ferried out of a jeep. One was a lieutenant killed by the mine he had laid himself.

Then we came to a creek bed swept by artillery or tank fire. Two men in the battery area were wounded seriously by this mysterious enemy fire. Near Yongdong, an area we held then.

A third man was hurt by a shell burst some 75 yards from us. We offered to bring up our jeep to evacuate him but an ambulance came, along before we could get our jeep. I will never forget the look of gratitude on the face of the freckled kid when we first offered to take his wounded buddy to the nearest aid station.

War is still about the same, Joe. Its only claim to glory is that it teaches you a softness to ward their problems.

The rest is sound and fury. Sometimes I will try to explain why.

But the world we live in today depends on young men being ready to defend it. Joe, it is your poor beaten-up world to build up again.

Rationing
8,450,000 tons—largest ever in any one calendar year.

The Federal Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois, while not specifically endorsing the Baruch plan, said "I don't like the piecemeal approach to economic curbs. The people don't like runaway prices and would like to take the profits out of war."

May Lead Fight
Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he is thinking of leading a fight in the Senate for the Baruch plan.

Rep. Wolcott of Michigan, Senior Republican on the House Bank Committee, said he will support the Kunkel-Baruch substitute on the floor and he and Kunkel predicted wide support by both Democrats and Republicans.

However, Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate G.O.P. policy committee, told a reporter that Senate Republicans aren't going to ask for all out controls now. He has predicted that partial controls will be followed by an administration request for a full program after the November elections are out of the way.

Mr. Truman's bill calls for no price and wage controls, and for no rationing powers. The President says he doesn't need this authority now but will ask for it if he finds it needed.

His request provides allocation and priorities authority to channel scarce materials into military and essential uses to finance increased productive capacity and a larger supply of materials, and to control installment buying and other consumer and real estate credit, and also power to curb speculations in commodities.

Boy Dies at Camp
Port Jervis, N. Y., July 28 (AP)—A nine-year-old Clinton, N. Y., boy died last night of polio, on day after he was stricken at Camp Talcott, a Y.M.C.A. camp at Huguenot, Orange county. The boy, Douglas Charles MacLean, died at Port Jervis Hospital. He was the only polio case at the camp, authorities said. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kenneth MacLean of 36 Greendale road, Clifton.

Two Drown Near Hudson
Hudson, N. Y., July 28 (AP)—A New Rochelle man and his nine-year-old daughter were drowned yesterday while swimming in near-by Roelien creek. Harrison Proctor, 43, (of 53 North avenue) and the girl, Linda, had been visiting relatives near here. The bodies were found last night after they failed to return for supper.

'No Turning Back'
Waterbeach, Eng., July 28 (AP)—Air Minister Arthur Henderson declared today the Korean war may be "long and arduous, but there can be no turning back." Speaking at an air base here, the R.A.F. chief said he was sure the people would stand together "whatever the future holds for us."

Louis Will Try
New York, July 28 (AP)—Joe Louis, now 36, will try to regain the world heavyweight boxing title he gave up two years ago. As a challenger he notified the International Boxing Club that he had started preliminary training in Indiana today with the hopes of defeating N.B.A. champion Elmer Charles in September in either New York or Chicago.

Bit Dog, Fined
Paris, July 28 (AP)—A Frenchman was fined 5,000 francs ($15) today for biting a dog. Justin Roulet, a pharmacist's assistant, didn't like the habits of the cocker spaniel of his neighbor, Monsieur Davrois. So Roulet, it was said in court, "bit the dog from the ground up to his mouth and bit him cruelly in the neck."

Derelict Barges Burn Near Rondout Bridge

A fire discovered early this morning spread over three derelict barges in the Rondout creek just south of the bridge.

Men from the Connelly and Port Ewen fire companies quenched the blaze which started between midnight and 1 a. m. The local fire department was notified and relayed the call.

Local firemen were called at 5:53 p. m. yesterday to check a slight fire in the midst of construction work on the George Washington School on the former Schier property. Five two-by-ten inch planks were burned in the blaze which started in outside sheathing along the basement, firemen said. The cause was undetermined.

Marine Battalion Called
New York, July 28 (AP)—Marine corps headquarters today announced the corps' 19th Reserve Infantry Battalion had been called to active duty.

The battalion would be mobilized August 7 and leave about August 17 for Camp Lejeune, N. C. Among the units affected by the order were Headquarters Battalion, Brooklyn; Company A, stationed on U.S.S. Prairie States, North river at 136th street; Company B, Rochester, N. Y.; and Company C, New Rochelle, N. Y.

The battalion, commanded by Lieut. Col. Lewis N. Samuelson, returned Saturday from a two-week training period at Little Creek, Va.

Less Polio in 1950
New York, July 28 (AP)—There is less polio this far in 1950 than there was for the same period a year ago, says the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

There were 5,151 new polio cases reported up to July 22 of this year, the Foundation said yesterday, compared with 6,323 for the same period in 1949—when polio cases hit a record high. The Foundation added, however, that "the number of cases for 1950 as a whole cannot be predicted at this time with any accuracy."

Action Is Completed
Washington, July 28 (AP)—Congress has completed action on a bill making it a criminal offense to display false markings on aircraft. The legislation, passed by the House yesterday following Senate approval, is designed to aid federal officials in preventing clandestine air transport operations. Use of aircraft for illegal immigration and smuggling has complicated the task of enforcement agencies, the House Commerce Committee said.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 28 (AP)—General Motors common stock raced in front of an advancing market today.

Demand for GM followed news that the company earned more money in the June quarter than any corporation in the history of American finance.

GM at one time advanced $3 a share to $84.25. Trading was heavy. Chrysler also moved up but at a slower rate.

GM, and other motor stocks, have recently been singled out for selling targets, presumably because of fear of the effect on profits and dividends of an excess profits tax.

Elsewhere gains were mostly around $1 a share or less. Aircraft stocks, however, refused to go along despite the prospect of huge government orders.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 28, 1950

NO ONE CAN AFFORD TO HOARD

From President Truman on down, we've had repeated warnings that foolish hoarding of food and other necessities can lead only one way—to rationing and price control.

As everyone recognizes, it isn't the occasional housewife alone who accounts for this rush to stock up in fear of war-induced scarcities. In times like these, there are always some merchants and speculators who give scare-buying an extra shove in their selfish desire to reap rich returns while the getting is good.

The threat of control only spurs such individuals to greater effort to beat the clamping down of the lid. And so the pace of the trend accelerates.

Most people, of course, are too sensible and patriotic to indulge in hoarding, especially when there's so little excuse for it as now. And most businessmen won't stoop to encouraging such practices, either. In fact, some high-minded firms have taken up the cry against them.

A striking example of this comes from Macy's, the huge New York department store. Its appeal for sanity was set forth in full-page ads in the New York newspapers. Macy's message makes a perfect editorial on the subject. Some excerpts:

"America's productive capacity today is at such a level—nearly double what it was in 1939—that it can cope with just about everything except a stampede of hoarding and panic-buying."

"The struggle in Korea may well last for a long time. But many experts believe it will remain limited in area and scope."

"Yet suppose the worst happens, suppose we do, despite all we hope and pray for, become involved in another full-scale war?"

"All the more reason why every sensible American—and every decent American—should look on hoarding with revulsion. It ALWAYS plays squarely into the hands of our enemies."

"In any state of affairs, peace, half-peace, or all-out war, hoarding is the worst thing we can do. Hoarders only hurt themselves. And their families. And their neighbors."

"So buy what you need or really want. But please don't be stampeded into buying what you don't want. You'll pay for it twice. You'll pay for it because you'll be spending money with no immediate benefit to yourself. And you'll pay for it again because it will help raise the prices you'll later have to pay for most everything."

That says it plainly enough. Hoarding is a self-defeating game in which everybody loses. Let's all stop engaging in it now.

RUBBERY CONCRETE

Technologists at the University of Minnesota have invented a new way to pour concrete, and they claim that the result is a concrete which behaves "almost like rubber." It becomes clear on further investigation, however, that they refer to the resistance of rubber rather than to its qualities of softness. The technique was developed for making concrete planks which will give without breaking; with the aim of producing a fireproof material which can be substituted for wood in the construction of stockyard pens. They seem to have found it.

If stock pens some day are universally made of this material, there should then be no more disastrous stockyard fires. But the pavement underfoot, and under your car, will retain its present hard and unyielding nature.

TOO MUCH SUGAR

A report from Puerto Rico says that the Sugar Producers Association there is worried about an expected surplus of about 134,000 tons of sugar from the 1950 crop. This may seem strange to American housewives who have found their grocers' shelves bare of sugar at times since the start of the Korean incident. Authorities assure us, however, that those bare shelves are merely the result of a sudden upsurge in sugar buying, which takes sugar out of the stores faster than supply lines are geared to move it in. There is plenty of sugar, they say; it's just a matter of getting it from storage points to the store.

So Puerto Rico still faces the prospect of a sugar surplus, and this is an old story for sugar producers. The housewife still can find a strange point, however: Hasn't anyone ever thought of reducing the price a penny or two?

No matter how skillfully prepared or how delightful it tastes, even the most succulent of home-cooked meals ends up the same—with dishes for washing.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

HINDSIGHT

General A. C. Wedemeyer was sent on a mission to the Far East in 1947 to report on conditions there and to help to devise a policy. On September 19, 1947, he presented a report on China and Korea to the President of the United States. This report was suppressed for nearly two years and when partially issued, was included in the so-called White Paper of China of the State Department and was there lost.

Had General Wedemeyer's report been heeded and his recommendations followed, we should today not be fighting in Korea. For he had the wisdom to recognize that the conquest of China would lead to the attempted conquest of Asia. General Wedemeyer for his pains was reduced from deputy chief of staff to a routine job of running the presidio in San Francisco. One of our ablest generals, he twiddles his thumbs at this moment when the country sorely needs a competent authority on the Far Eastern situation.

The first two paragraphs of his report to the President read:

"China's history is replete with examples of encroachment, arbitrary action, special privilege, exploitation and usurpation of territory on the part of foreign powers. Continued foreign infiltration, penetration or efforts to obtain spheres of influence in China, including Manchuria and Taiwan (Formosa), could be interpreted only as a direct infringement and violation of China's sovereignty and a contravention of the principles of the charter of the United Nations. It is mandatory that the United States and those other nations subscribing to the principles of the charter of the United Nations should combine their efforts to insure the unimpeded march of all peoples toward goals that recognize the dignity of man and his civil rights and, further, definitely provide the opportunity to express freely how and by whom they will be governed."

"Those goals and the lofty aims of freedom-loving peoples are jeopardized today by forces as sinister as those that operated in Europe and Asia during the ten years leading to World War II. The pattern is familiar—employment of subversive agents; infiltration tactics; incitement of disorder and chaos to disrupt normal economy and thereby undermine popular confidence in government; and leaders' seizure of authority without reference to the will of the people—all the techniques skillfully designed and ruthlessly implemented in order to create favorable conditions for the imposition of totalitarian ideologies. This pattern is present in the Far East, particularly in the areas contiguous to Siberia."

There is a tendency abroad, undoubtedly stimulated and accelerated by the friends of Dean Acheson, to blame our unreadiness to meet the onslaught in Korea on the Department of Defense, on Louis Johnson, and on General Douglas MacArthur.

This attack is obviously unfair and even dishonest and for these reasons:

1. The foreign policy of the United States is composed by the President and implemented by the secretary of state. From Teheran (1945) until Soviet Russia attacked in Korea (June 1950), that policy was one of abject appeasement of Soviet Russia.

The secretary of defense does not make the foreign policy. It has been known ever since he took office that Louis Johnson has been opposed to the general policy of the Far East pursued by the State Department.

That policy supported the Communists in China; insisted upon the withdrawal of our forces from Korea and our eventual withdrawal of General Douglas MacArthur and his forces from Japan. It practically proposed the abandonment of the Japanese-Okinawa-Philippines line.

Louis Johnson and the Department of Defense opposed this policy. Their ideas were based to a large extent on the Wedemeyer report which the State Department and the President rejected. Louis Johnson continued throughout this period to oppose the abandonment of Formosa. In the record, as it now stands, the Department of Defense was correct.

2. The fiscal policy of this country is made by the President, the director of the budget and the secretary of the Treasury. The Department of Defense was praised generally when it sought to utilize the allotted funds to the greatest advantage by eliminating traditional waste.

The current attack on Louis Johnson that the economics practised by the Department of Defense are responsible for our lack of troops and supplies in Korea will not stand up under investigation. The troops and supplies were withdrawn not because of economics but because of a policy to appease Russia.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

SUGAR AND DECAY OF TEETH

Dentists everywhere are studying the effects of sugar and sweets on the teeth, as it has been definitely shown that sugar left on and between the teeth is perhaps the commonest cause of their decay. The fact that the immediate rinsing and brushing of the teeth after eating sugar or starch foods will prevent decay of teeth is also known. It is for this reason, some months ago, I suggested that if parents could make sure that their youngsters rinsed out the mouth and brushed the teeth after eating sugar or candy they would not have to forbid its use.

The growing active youngster needs plenty of sugar or other starch foods, not so much to help in his growth, but because sugar gives energy to play. Playing stimulates mental and physical development. Physically there is widening of the chest, giving space for growth of the heart; the heart is strengthened because the huge masses of muscles in thighs demand a great amount of blood sent down to them. In play practically all the muscles on the outside of the body are in use and so the heart and blood vessels are strengthened.

Mentally and emotionally, boys and girls need play. It teaches them to respect the other fellow's rights and demand their own, which means neither inferiority or a superiority complex. They learn in play also how to win and how to defeat.

The thought, then, is that while it is true that starch foods left on the teeth cause decay because of the action of acid juices present in the mouth, nevertheless, as starch foods give energy for play, it would be wise for parents to allow or encourage candy or sugar after school. Children will use up this starch food during play and be ready for a varied evening meal. However, because they are apt to eat much starch food at evening meals and have no "room" for meats and vegetables, parents will have to try to control this insofar as is possible.

Who Do You Think Is Behind These Things?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Our ex-ambassador to Russia, Gen. Bedell Smith, recently told a closed-door session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee how a Soviet propaganda film backfired.

"The Russians are intensely interested in how the man in the small American town or city lives," Gen. Smith told the senators. "The great Russian propaganda picture, 'Rusky Vaproski,' which was a terrible indictment of American journalism and foreign policy, played in 500 theatres simultaneously in the Soviet Union. But it lasted only two weeks in Moscow."

"We had American observers at the theatre almost every night. The audience reaction was interesting. In one scene, the producer had accurately shown a tenement in the east side of New York—what we would consider extremely poor housing."

"To the Muscovites," Smith continued, "it was darn good housing, housing Russians would compare for. Between the tenement buildings were clotheslines, and audience reaction was 'my God, how many clothes they have! Look at them!'"

General Smith smiled at this recollection and went on: "Then the film showed the little Westchester bungalow of the drooping reporter who was losing his job and his wife because he had written something good about the Soviet Union. The audience was not interested in what was happening to him, but they were gasping at the electric range and the electric refrigerator in the kitchen."

Lush Campaign Funds

Big-time money is still pouring into senatorial primaries, the latest to attract attention being the New Hampshire battle between two Republicans, older statesman Senator Charles Tobey and ex-actress secretary Wesley Powell.

Powell, an energetic young man who formerly ran the office of New Hampshire's Senator Styles

Bridges, seems to have an abundance of funds to spend in his campaign against Tobey. Yet he resigned from his job with Senator Bridges one year ago, has no law practice, no other important means of support, and has been giving all his time to campaigning.

Where he gets his lush campaign chest is not yet known. However, Truman's close friend Ed Pauley once vowed that he could contribute any amount of money to defeat Senator Tobey. This was after Tobey led the Senate attack which defeated oilman Pauley for appointment as undersecretary of the navy. Tobey maintained that with the navy buying large amounts of oil, a big oil man who had raised thousands for the Democratic party, should not be running the navy.

Also sore at Tobey and reported anxious to unseat him are David Sarnoff of R.C.A., whose operations Tobey once exposed, and the Textron Company, also investigated by Tobey.

Meanwhile, Iowa's Senator Gillette, chairman of a special committee to probe election campaigns, has been requested to investigate New Hampshire. It isn't likely, however, that the likable gentleman from Iowa will do anything. In the first place, Gillette is too easygoing. In the second place, Senator Tobey once won on Gillette's toes in a previous election probe.

This was in 1940, when Tobey and the late Senator Alva Adams of Colorado wanted to scrutinize the campaign machinations of the Hague machine in New Jersey. However, Senator Gillette was called to the White House and asked to lay off. Later, he called a meeting of his full committee, and in urging them not to investigate the Hague machine, literally broke down and wept.

"Gentlemen," he said, "you don't know the pressure that I am under."

However, Senators Tobey and

Adams went ahead with the New Jersey probe anyway.

Wasted Effort Department

One of the minor mysteries of the Pentagon building is why the Defense Department's public information office wastes precious time and money getting such out-of-date and superfluous publicity photos.

As recently as July 14, the Defense Department sent newspapers a "fact sheet," accompanied by 22 handsome "official Dept. of Defense" photos showing various views of the Red River arsenal of Texas, its tanks, guns, trucks, etc., stored there, employees at work on servicing and "de-cocking" the equipment.

Except to show what expert photographers the Defense Department has, a more useless piece of defense effort has yet to be seen.

No New O.P.A.

Conscientious Stuart Symington, who as chairman of the National Security Resources Board now becomes virtual czar of the civilian economy, has worked out a common-sense scheme for the administration of controls.

At least it sounds like common sense on paper, though old-timers have raised eyebrows as to whether it will really work.

What Symington plans is to place the administration of controls in the hands of the present government agencies instead of building up big new bureaus. For instance, he would have the Labor Department handle manpower and labor problems; the Commerce Department handle retail materials, the Interior Department coal, oil, and electric power.

The Commerce Department, Symington points out, has 56,000 employees. Therefore, instead of building up new bureaucracies, he would have the Commerce Department handle all war controls affecting business.

Experts who handled war controls in the last war agree that this is a most laudable idea. However, they point out that out of the Commerce Department's employees, 11,000 are scattered around the nation's airports with the Civil Aeronautics Administration; another large group with the Coast and Geodetic Survey; and others are scattered around the country as weather bureau observers. And you can't do much about priorities or price controls when you're stuck in a lighthouse or sending up weather balloons.

Another criticism is that war controls have to be administered impartially and for the best interests of all. In contrast, the Labor Department's chief function is to champion the cause of labor, therefore it would be handicapped in settling a wartime wage dispute.

Likewise, the Agriculture Department has always pleaded the cause of the farmer, might be prejudiced when given the job of keeping prices down.

However, Symington points to the facility of building up big bureaus only to disband them if the Korean crisis tapers off next winter. So his idea will be given a good trial.

Russia Will Start Offensive to Keep Americans From Mobilizing; Maneuver Will Not Succeed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 28—Russia has started a new peace offensive.

By using the excuse that it was alive. Her tactics of confusion now will be employed to keep the American mobilization from materializing. It is a maneuver that will not succeed. For, while the move may gain time for both sides and may keep large-scale war from breaking out this year, the Russian's word or purpose of the defense preparations will proceed as planned.

The announcement that Jacob Malik will assume the presidency of the Security Council of the United Nations on August 1st—the date on which the established rule about rotation in office called for a Russian representative to begin presiding—was interpreted immediately as a retreat and an advance at the same time by the Communist regime. For it is believed that the Kremlin made a strategic blunder in moving out of the Security Council merely on account of the unwillingness of the other powers to recognize Communist China. The Russians didn't imagine that the U.N. would ever be called on by the United States to impose military sanctions and send troops and ships to Korea to strike back at the North Korean aggressors. What the Russians lost then was a chance to veto the step and the machinery of the U.N. Now they have come back to the Security Council to see what they can do to prevent the U.N. from developing further into an anti-Communist alliance.

At the same time, the Russians will have a peace plan. They will undoubtedly pose before the world as anxious to restore peace. They will agree to use their influence to bring about the withdrawal of the North Korean forces, provided terms are agreed upon concerning future elections. It is believed, however, the exact formula will not be offered now. Instead, the plan probably will call for withdrawal of the North Korean forces and the submission of the whole question to the Security Council to discuss and negotiate.

lems of want and unemployment."

The United States was not the victim of a broken down economic machine because the machine had not broken down. In fact, it has continued to work, though with alarming deterioration, in spite of all the sabotage that was committed by Communist traitors in and around the Roosevelt government. That it can survive the present and further wars is doubtful, the more so because Roosevelt poured out billions of money and torrents of manufactured stuff and irreplaceable natural resources to arm and strengthen the enemy who attacks us now.

Now is it true at all that Soviet Russia in these days was "imbued with radiant hope" nor that she "seemed to be solving problems of want and unemployment." Russia was then, as now, a despotic nation in which people had not even personality, much less "hope" and had "employment" only because they were brutes owned by the state. They were put to work at whatever jobs the tyrants assigned them for wages which were insufficient to buy them more than the rude necessities. The bosses established their own class system just as our own unfortunates have done in the name of "labor" and it has never been changed.

When Schelsinger tells us that Lincoln Steffens and William C. Bullitt extolled communism he cites the opinion of one sanctimonious, fourflushing, lily-headed peaseur who had made a career of brain-picking other journalists and one credulous immature Philadelphian who had married the widow of John Reed, a historic traitor who was buried in the Kremlin. Steffens was wily and Bullitt ludicrous and unquestionably owe a degree of our present national peril to the stupidity of F. D. Roosevelt in accepting their worthless judgment.

But neither these opinions, however much they may have affected Roosevelt's mind, nor the great depression can be blamed for the treachery of those who threw in with treason. Schelsinger tries to say that many such were "confused and anxious intellectuals," whereas the person who can be rated as an intellectual obviously has less excuse for "confusion" than the ignorant who almost unanimously rejected communism. He is, in the final sense, making excuses for a pack of rats who had the advantages of education and easy life and were "confused" if that is the permissible word, only because they were infidels in their rotten souls.

In its editorial on the Hiss verdict, the Washington Post said Hiss "had the misfortune of being tempted to betray his country in an era of widespread illusions about communism and of being tried for perjury in a period of cold war when the pendulum of public sentiment had swung far in the other direction."

That shocking dictum needs no elaboration. There is a propaganda going to condone or forgive a life of treachery deliberately chosen by well-educated men and women of wide character. They had no excuse and those who have not had the candor to admit that they were traitors and express regret should be denied amnesty and locked up in concentration camps in the round-up which must come soon. Incidentally, Schelsinger repeats a statement that has recently appeared elsewhere to the effect that I once gave an interview to the Daily Worker in which I

Washington, July 28 (AP)—The Defense Department yesterday announced the largest casualty list thus far in the Korean fighting.

It listed 11 killed in action, 18 wounded, one injured and 83 missing in action—a total of 113.

The new list, No. 45, brought the total number of casualties announced to date to 78 killed, eight dead of wounds, 263 wounded, 79 injured and 474 missing in action—a grand total of 904.

(Wounded are those hurt in combat, injured those hurt in accidents.)

Among the missing in action was 2nd Lt. Frank J. Cosnahan, husband of Mrs. Norma M. Cosnahan, residing in Far East command. He is the son of Mrs. Alice M. Cosnahan, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., July 28—

I have just been reading a most interesting advertisement of a great steel company. In effect, it constitutes a report of the progress this company has made in its production of steel plates for ships, bombs, and other war materials. This company has nothing whatever to sell to the general public, but it chooses to buy considerable newspaper space to give the people some most encouraging facts.

Reliance and Returns

The public has come to rely upon advertisements. In countless instances people make it a practice to read the ads first and the news stories second. Naturally, there is some waste in advertising; but 90 per cent of it is to the good. The merchant who pays a bill for advertising expects his ad to "pay its way." The return in merchandise sales per dollar spent for space is carefully watched.

In certain types of copy featuring sale of shoes, dresses, and various other articles of consumer goods, a merchant thinks he can determine an hour after his store opens for business whether or not the advertisement is a success. He fools himself by trying to do this. Statistics show that money spent on one daily newspaper advertisement will be a factor in increasing sales for a period of some months ahead.

Don't Worry About Korea

Many believe that the consumer goods industries must now fall off and are curtailing advertising. I cannot necessarily agree with this position. Whatever happens in Korea, the vast machinery of manufacturing and distributing which makes up our great retail trade must be kept running. Newspaper advertising is the best means of making this possible. Besides, I am more optimistic on the international situation than I have been for some years. The Koreans will get such a punishment that it will be many years before Russia gets some other satellite to try the same stunt.

Advertising and Taxes

Merchants who out down advertising appropriations at this time are making a great mistake. Not only do all merchants now need more sales, but those who advertise now get more attention when their competing merchants are not advertising. Now is the time to advertise. One of the best ways to avoid the "boom or bust" policy would be for Congress to allow a special tax reduction as an incentive for five-year contracts for advertising expenditures. Then instead of merchants spending freely good years, with very little for lean years, the advertising appropriations would be spent over a five-year period. This would do much to keep business on an even keel which is what we especially need today.

Lawyer Denies Kidnaping

Mineola, N. Y., July 28 (AP)—Gerald Sylvester, a Brooklyn lawyer, pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge of kidnaping a two-year-old boy he claims is his own son. The 40-year-old Sylvester was held without bail by Judge Henry J. Collins, who set no date for a trial. The boy, Richard Kaplan, disappeared from an Elmont, N. Y., boarding home June 22. Wednesday, he was found safe and healthy in a Provincetown, Mass., boarding home. Sylvester, arrested in Brooklyn, was quoted by police as saying the boy was born to a married woman, Mrs. Barbara Kaplan.

Successful manufacturers are carrying on a most sensible campaign of paid publicity with no chance of new getting their money back through immediate increased sales. I hope more local firms will take advantage of the opportunities to advertise which are offered today. Yes, I am optimistic for advertising for those who stick to it "rain or shine." Sensible continuous advertising is the best investment that there is.

Dues Are Withheld

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 28 (AP)—The national organization of the Knights of Pythias is to get no dues from New York state members until it removes a "for-whites-only" clause from its membership application blanks. The Grand Lodge of New York state voted yesterday to withhold its dues from the national order until the so-called "white" clause was removed. Under supreme (national) lodge rules, a person applying for membership must state that he is a "white male."

Boy, 3, Is Killed

Boise, Idaho, July 28 (AP)—A three-year-old Mount Vernon, N. Y., boy was accidentally killed yesterday by a gunshot wound inflicted by an older brother, Coroner Clyde Summers said. He said the boy, John Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Long and his brother were playing with a .22 caliber gun while the family was visiting with relatives at Eagle, Idaho. The gun was discharged, striking the youngster in the head, the coroner said.

The Simple Truth About "EASY TERMS"

It is often more convenient to buy a car out of income, rather than pay cash.

But to do so involves additional cost. So it is important to keep this cost as low as possible. For instance, twenty-four months of financing service costs twice as much as twelve.

The cheapest and best way to buy on time payments is to pay all you can down and pay as much per month as you can comfortably afford.

Don't be misled by so-called "Easy" payments. Take time to check on all costs as well as services proposed when you buy.

3 DRIVING OPERATIONS INSTEAD OF 15!

Start the engine... set the control lever... press the accelerator... and that's all there is to it! With Powerglide Automatic Transmission, you steer, accelerate and brake with no clutch to touch!

SMOOTH POWER-FLOW AT ALL SPEEDS!

You'll enjoy an absolutely smooth flow of power at all speeds. You'll have unlimited flexibility and change of pace from 1 m.p.h. to top speed, without lag, drag or roughness.

MUCH FASTER ACCELERATION, TOO!

The traffic light says "Go"... you step on the accelerator... and you're away in a flash on a smooth, ever-mounting wave of power, while other drivers are shifting gears.

LEVELS HILLS—MULTIPLIES THRILLS!

You have a mighty 105-h.p. Valve-in-Head Engine* under that hood—most powerful in its field. It flattens hills and boosts thrills, while Powerglide adds safety and ease!

MORE EFFICIENT ON ICE OR SNOW!

Yes, you can rock out of snow with this automatic drive, changing from forward to reverse instantly, without clashing. Other advantages include Emergency Low for extra braking-power.

SO MUCH SIMPLER—SO MUCH SAFER!

What ease—what safety—compared with other drives! Your left foot has nothing to do. Your right foot operates accelerator or brake, as desired. Both hands free for steering!

FULL CHEVROLET THRIFT IN OVER-ALL DRIVING!

In addition to all these advantages, the new Chevrolet with Powerglide Automatic Transmission gives traditional Chevrolet economy in over-all driving. It's extremely thrifty to operate and maintain.

CUTS DRIVER FATIGUE—INCREASES CAR LIFE!

You'll be much more relaxed on both long and short trips. Powerglide makes driving easier than ever. Moreover, it greatly reduces car wear and greatly increases car life!

No lawn mower is even in tune at five o'clock in the morning.

The neighbor attended a reunion the other evening and rode home in a street car, deciding it would be best not to drive under the circumstances. Next evening on his way home from work, the conductor spoke to him.

Conductor—(I see you got home all right last night.)

Neighbor—What made you think anything was wrong?

Conductor—Oh, nothing, except that when you got up to give that lady your seat you two were the only ones on the car.

Sensible road sign: "The driver is safer when the roads are dry. The roads are safer when the driver is dry."

Fred—What size bank is the one you work in?

Ted—Well, it takes a good story two weeks to get from the president back to the president.

Judge—You are a nuisance. I must commit you.

Prison—You have no right to commit a nuisance even if you are a judge.

Firemen's Fair Will Be Biggest Yet; Group Says

The three-day annual Fireman's Fair of Ulster Hose No. 5 will be "the biggest and best yet," the committee in charge announced today. The fair will be held next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 3, 4 and 5, at the firehouse grounds, Albany avenue extension.

Last year the fair attracted more than 1,000 persons on its closing night. There will be a "Kiddie-Car ride" and a merry-go-round as well as a fish pond for the amusement of the children, and the famous pie-eating contest will be underway, with prizes awarded each of the three nights.

The Ladies' Auxiliary is sponsoring a white elephant booth in addition to the fancy-work booth. Home-made cakes, pies, crackers, bread and candy will be on sale each night.

Music will be furnished by the boys and girls band, refreshments will be on sale, as well as lamps, toys, groceries, and many other items.

A social party will be held each night at the fair.

Among the Silono, an Indian tribe of Bolivia, a father changes his name to that of a now son, adding a phrase meaning "father of."

Wins Second Place In French Contest

RUTH BEHRENS

The American Association of Teachers of French has announced that Miss Ruth Behrens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Behrens of Port Ewen, placed second in Section Three of the association's national contest to determine the best student of three years of French in the United States.

Section Three included New York state and parts of neighboring states. Miss Behrens was the winner of the Kingston High School and the Hudson Valley District contests, which meant that her paper was entered in Section Three.

The award for second place in this section was a handsome bronze medal embossed with a bust of Lafayette.

Miss Behrens, who attended and did post-graduate work at Kingston High School, will enter Cornell University in the fall, majoring in French and minoring in German.

"KEEPING UP" NOT A QUESTION OF EXPENSE

A woman who at any rate understands herself better than most tells me: "I had a good friend before I was married. I have seen her less and less because she is very rich and I married someone who is poor. I found that whenever I saw her I became depressed over my own meager circumstances. I'm sure this affected my husband. Now she sends me an invitation to her wedding reception and encloses a handwritten note saying how she is counting on my seeing her. I don't want to go to this elaborate wedding and possibly get involved again with many people I haven't seen for years and can't keep up with. Is my attitude right or wrong?"

Your attitude is very unfortunate because self-consciousness about your lack is something which is seldom noticed by the more fortunate and ends by becoming a handicap to yourself. You should go and enjoy seeing your old friends. Further than being an attractive person there is no "keeping up" necessary or expected.

Funeral of ex-Husband
Dear Mrs. Post: For the sake of my children who are in Europe and with the permission of my second husband, I went to the funeral of my ex-husband. The man in charge of the funeral knew we were divorced but he put me with the relatives at the funeral. I'm criticized by members of my family for having gone to the funeral in the first place, let alone to have sat with his relatives. Are they right?

Answer: While your motive in going was entirely proper, and quite understandable to many I do think it was a mistake to let yourself be placed with your ex-family.

Carious Attitude about Cards
Dear Mrs. Post: I'm sorry I disagree with your advice that birthday greetings do not have to be acknowledged. When I take the time and trouble to remember and go out and choose a card to send to a friend I do expect an answer. In fact, if I don't get it eventually I don't think there would be much incentive to remember again.

Answer: I am sorry to tell you that a note is not required in receipt of a greeting card. Sometimes, however, it is very likely that the one receiving your card will send you a card in return.

"Is it proper to send printed 'Thank-yous'?" This is a question frequently asked. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but you will find her leaflet E-18 etiquette test including 35 questions and answers very helpful. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Married in Tillson

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore O. Musal cut their wedding cake. The bride is the former Shirley Ann Stokes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stokes of New Paltz. The wedding was held in Friends' Church, Tillson. (Tripod Photo)

Shirley Ann Stokes Becomes Bride Of Theodore O. Musal of St. Remy

Miss Shirley Ann Stokes, 200 Tremper avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stokes of New Paltz, became the bride Sunday of Theodore O. Musal of St. Remy, son of Helmut Musal of Valhalla, in a double ring ceremony at Friends' Church, Tillson. The Rev. Truman D. Whitaker, pastor of the Friends' Church in Poughkeepsie, officiated.

The church was banked with baskets of garden flowers in pastel shades. Mrs. Roy Clark was organist, and Mrs. Charles Hasbrouck sang "I Love You Truly." Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an afternoon dress of starfisher over blue taffeta, with white mits, and a white picture hat. She carried a nosegay of mixed flowers with blue ribbon streamers. Her only jewelry was her grandmother's cameo brooch. Matron of honor was Mrs. Emily Lou Stokes of High Falls, sister-in-law of the bride, who wore starfisher over pink taffeta with white mits and hat. She carried a nosegay of mixed flowers with pink ribbon streamers.

The groom attended New Paltz Central High School and Delhi State School of Agriculture. He served in the U. S. Navy until 1946. He is now employed at the Federal Bearing Co., in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. William McElveen and daughter, Sue, were guests at the wedding of Miss Gladys Sparks and Ernest Van Nodall Saturday in Poughkeepsie.

Excelsiors to Ride

Members of Excelsior Hose Company and Auxiliary members will meet at the engine house at 12 o'clock Saturday and parade to the Governor Clinton Hotel where they will board buses for downtown, the starting point of the firemen's parade. They will assemble at Murray and Chambers streets. Headed by the Father Hartie Drum Corps of Saugerties they will participate in the parade and after the parade buses will be at the armory to convey the firemen and ladies to the Hurley avenue engine house where refreshments will be served.

Will Test Meters

New York, July 28 (AP)—New York city will have 1,500 parking meters installed on a test basis by this fall. Mayor William O'Dwyer approved the installation yesterday after saying he was satisfied there were enough reputable manufacturers to operate the devices without fear of possible scandal. The project was okayed a year ago and $125,000 was appropriated to buy and install the machines. The mayor held it up pending an official check on reports that there was a link between the makers of parking meters and of slot machines.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Luckless Player Was Really Vold of Skill

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Maybe your friend Hard Luck Joe has been around here lately," writes a New Orleans correspondent. "We had a hand the other night that had us all changing our minds faster than we could make them up. Here is how the play went."

"West opened the ten of hearts, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer (a real Hard Luck Joe type) took the ace of spades and then led the king of spades. Curtain!"

"East ruffed the king of spades and returned a trump. Now South had three losing spades in his hand and only two trumps in dummy to ruff them with. The hearts could not be set up, and nothing could be done. South was set."

"Naturally South complained about his hard luck, and we all jumped on him at once. We said that after taking the ace of spades he should have led a club to dummy's ace in order to lead a second spade from dummy. If East ruffed, South could play a low spade. If East discarded, South could take his king of spades and then proceed to ruff his low spades in dummy."

"South agreed that this plan would have made the contract. However, he pointed out that he would have run into disaster if West (rather than East) had held the singleton spade. Even if South played the hand according to our recommendations, West would ruff the king of spades on the second round of that suit. He would then return a trump and South would be just as badly off as he actually was.

"This made us change our minds once again. Maybe the hand was unlucky after all. What do you think?"

"The hand was not unlucky. South should have made his six-card contract no matter which opponent happened to have a singleton spade. The correct play after winning the ace of spades at the second trick is to return a low spade at once from the South hand!"

"The best defense the opponents can put up is to take this spade and return a trump. South wins in his own hand, ruffs his second low spade in dummy, cashes the ace of clubs, and returns to his hand by ruffing a club. He then ruffs his last low spade with dummy's last trump and once again returns to his hand by ruffing a club."

"Since declarer has ruffed only twice in his own hand, he can now draw all of the trumps, even if they are all held by one opponent. He can then cash the king of spades for the 12th trick."

"When my correspondents suggested that this was a hand for Hard Luck Joe, I think they made a mistake. This was one for a Pessimistic Pete."

State Pushes Plans To Mobilize Its Medical Resources

Albany, N. Y., July 28 (AP)—Plans for mobilization of the state's medical resources in event of an atomic attack were pushed today by the State Health Department.

Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe outlined immediate action to implement recommendations by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, chairman of the State Civilian Defense Commission.

Initial plans were mapped yesterday, when Hilleboe conferred with staff aides and regional health directors.

Clay had listed these medical defense responsibilities in a letter to Hilleboe:

1. A survey of available medical equipment and supplies and a detailed list as to the additional number, type and kind required in bombing emergency.

2. Plans for procuring, processing, storing and distributing blood and blood substitutes, in cooperation with local C-D units, the Red Cross and local laboratories.

3. Plans for mass immunizations and emergency sanitary measures to prevent epidemics following an air attack.

4. Establishment, by local health officers, of medical teams to operate receiving and distributing stations at or near emergency areas.

5. Estimates of hospitalization requirements resulting from "the dropping of bombs."

6. Plans to provide blood type designations for an identification card or tag as part of a system of personal identification planned by the civilian-defense organization.

7. Establishment of a training and information center concerning developments in the treatment of radiation sickness, burns, shock and traumatic injury, as well as precautionary measures against bacterial and chemical warfare.

Brussels' Folks Walk to Work

Brussels, Belgium, July 28 (AP)—Brussels walked to work today as the country's widespread anti-Leopold strikes hit the capital. The city's factories and most large department stores were closed.

With some 300,000 workers already idle in protest against King Leopold's return to his throne, both the monarch's supporters and his opponents pulled their battle lines tighter. Tension mounted throughout the nation.

An anti-Leopold demonstrator died of injuries received last night in a bloody 90-minute fight between police and anti-Leopold partisans who penetrated to within 300 yards of the king's palace at Laeken. The dead man reportedly was run down by a car he was trying to stop.

Only about 20 of Brussels' 750 street cars were operating today. Protected by rifle-carrying gendarmes and jammed to the doors, they were driven by members of the pro-Leopold Catholic Union, which ignored the strike call of the larger Socialist-controlled union.

A crowd before one open store sang the Communist international and booed members of the staff going to work. Forcing their way inside, the demonstrators trampled two life-size pictures of the king. Rifle-armed police drove them out and drew a tight cordon around the store.

Misasi Hurls Three-Hitter as Legion Nine Wins Opener, 10 to 2

Trounce Hudson To Move Into District Finals

Locals Enjoy Two Five-Run Innings

Big Sal Misasi, the Glasco schoolboy pitching sensation, unfurled a three-hitter as the Old Capital Legion tossers of Kingston drubbed Hudson Post, Columbia county champions, 10 to 2, yesterday at Hawkins Stadium, Albany, in the opening game of the Third District championships.

Kingston drew a bye for second round competition and will move into the district finals against the winner of the Albany county-Schoharie county playoff on Saturday at 2 p. m. at Hawkins Stadium.

Misasi, who at the tender age of 15 is a City League performer with Jonas Dairy, had only one bad inning—the third—when Hudson picked up all of its three hits and a run. A second tally in the fourth inning was unearned.

A pair of five-run innings enabled the Old Caps to breeze home an easy winner. They greeted starter Rehder with five runs in the first and then chased him to the showers in the process of scoring five more in the fourth.

Lyons has 2 RBIs. Bob Lyons potted two singles and drove in a pair of runs, while Jerry Bechtold accounted for an RBI with a double and single. Misasi had a double. The three Hudson safeties went to three different players.

Misasi struck out eight batters and walked three and was backed by almost effortless support. Bob Baumer, shortstop, was charged with the only misplay. But he made amends by turning in a sensational running catch of a short fly to left field. Don Jones uncorked a great throw from deep center to nail a Hudson runner at the plate in the third inning.

Beisser Reaches Quarter Finals

Southampton, N. Y., July 28

(AP)—Dr. Arnold Beisser, the husky young San Franciscan who is being called the giant killer of the Meadow Club tennis tournament, faces a tough foe today in Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J.

They were to meet in one of the two remaining quarter-finals matches. The other paired Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., and Grant Golden of Chicago. Savitt, seeded seventh, is red hot now.

Favored Gardner Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., and third-seeded Earl Cochell of San Francisco gained the semi-finals yesterday. Mulloy whipped Sidney Schwartz, Long Beach, N. Y., 6-4, 6-4, while Cochell defeated James Brink, Seattle, 7-5, 6-0.

Beisser, virtually unknown in the east before he trounced Herb Flam on Wednesday, won his third round match from Charles Masterson, Hicksville, N. Y., 6-4, 9-7. Flam, only last Monday, beat Ted Schroeder in the National Clay Courts final.

Larsen advanced with a 6-4, 6-3 triumph over Gilbert Boghe, junior national champion from Chevy Chase, Md.

Masterson put up a stiff battle against Dr. Beisser. He was leading in games, 7-6, in the second set before weakening and scoring only three points in the last three games.

Alexander's 63 Sets PGA Record

Sioux City, Ia., July 28 (AP)—

Skip Alexander, a bespectacled 31-year-old southerner, had a one-stroke lead today as professional golf's hot-shots entered the second round of the Sioux City Open tournament.

Alexander was in front of the pack after posting a record-breaking 63 at the 6,506-yard Elmwood course yesterday. It was the lowest score on the P.G.A.'s summer circuit and the best round ever played at Elmwood.

Skip, pro at the Deanne Hill Club, Knoxville, Tenn., canned a 6-foot putt on the 18th hole for a birdie 3. That enabled him to shear two toes from the course record and landed him nine strokes under par 72.

Alexander needed his record-smashing pace to edge Sam Snead and Jack Burke, Jr. for the lead. Snead was first in with a 65. Burke moved in at late day with his 65, missing a four-foot putt on 18 for a birdie.

Major League Roundup

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Temporary loss of Curt Simmons, top National League pitcher with 14 wins, puts the Phillies whiz kids to the real test. Eddie Swayer's staff must take up the slack for two weeks until the $65,000 bonus baby returns from a National Guard camp.

This is the third mid-summer camp trip for Simmons. In other years it didn't matter. He was just another wild youngster with a slingshot arm. Now he's high man in the league. When he leaves tomorrow, there will be a gaping hole in the Phil defense.

Simmons protected the Phil's 1 1/2 game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals with 13-3 decision over the Chicago Cubs yesterday. Curt allowed seven hits, including a homer by Andy Pafko, fanned five and walked five.

Ennis on Rampage

Del Ennis ruined the Cubs, driving in seven runs with a double in the seventh and a homer in the eighth, each with the bases loaded.

St. Louis stuck close to the Phil with a rousing 13-3 romp over Brooklyn. The Card broke the game wide open after it had gone 1-1 through the first six innings. Enos Slaughter and Chuck Diering each hit two homers and Del Rice hit one but Stan Musial's 30-game batting streak was ended. Musial went hitless in five trips.

The loss cost the Dodgers third place when Boston grabbed a 5-3 night victory over Pittsburgh behind Warren Spahn. The Braves' lefthander had a shutout until the ninth when the Pirates bunched three of their eight hits for all their runs.

Cincinnati and New York were idle.

Yankees Tripped

As happens so often in baseball, an old teammate came back to haunt the New York Yankees. George Stinewiss, traded to St. Louis in June, came through with a ninth-inning single to break a tie with a 3-2 Brownie win. The loss dropped the Yanks a game and a half back of Detroit, which knocked over Boston 5-1, in an afternoon game. As Cleveland also lost to Philadelphia, 7-2, the Tigers gained on all other first division clubs.

Stinewiss' hit followed a single by Sherm Lollar and a walk to Roy Sievers in the ninth. There was only one out when he singled to left to hand Tommy Byrne his fifth loss. Al Widmar, nicked for two runs in the fifth, was helped to his fifth win by five double plays.

Dizzy Trout, who figured as second string bullpen pitcher last spring, whipped Boston for the third time, to help the Detroit cause. Four double plays helped Trout out of deep holes as he salvaged the lone Tiger victory of the three-game set with the Red Sox. A three-run fifth inning in which Vic Wertz hit his 16th homer with a man on ruined Boston.

Lou Brissie, the "loosingest" pitcher in the majors with 13 defeats, calmed the Indians with four hits for the first Philadelphia win over the Indians in their last 10 starts.

Washington split a pair with Chicago, winning the first 3-2 and losing the second, 6-3.

Louis-Charles Bout Seems Set Sept. 27

IBC Expected to Make Announcement Today

New York, July 28 (AP)—Joe

Louis is expected to agree today to a comeback bout with Ezzard Charles at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 27.

Louis won't make the announcement himself. It will come from Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, at his New York office.

Norris talked with the Bomber by phone in Chicago yesterday. The retired heavyweight champ probably gave his answer then, but the I.B.C. wanted to avoid conflict with the announcement of its Willie Pep-Sandy Saddler signing for Sept. 6 at Yankee Stadium.

Mennie Seamon, Louis' trainer, arrived at West Baden, Ind., yesterday to start drilling the Bomber for a late September fight. Louis is supposed to arrive at the training camp today. They plan to remain in Indiana until Aug. 22 or 23 and then move to Pompton Lakes, N. J., Louis' old camp, for the last five weeks.

"I know he'll win," said Seamon, "he's in better shape than any titleholder that ever came back."

That certainly sounds as though it's all cut and dried for Louis to make his comeback.

There is a possibility that Lee Savold, the British recognized heavyweight champ, might be Louis' opponent. But Lee still is in England. Charles, recognized by the N.B.A. as Louis' successor, is the logical foe.

Charles is defending his N.B.A. title in Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 15 against Freddie Beahore of Harrisburg, Pa.

Norris said recently that Louis' comeback depended on an income tax deal with the government. The Bomber owes a considerable sum and is trying to settle with the proceeds from a Charles fight.

Truman Gibson, his attorney, has been in Washington for a few days checking Louis' tax affair. He gave out no statement and Internal Revenue Bureau officials won't talk.

Even if Louis has been turned down, it's believed he will go through with the Charles fight.

In the Mexican league of baseball, a home run is called a "jam-ron."

Radioactive Atoms Used to Aid Cancer Sufferers Abroad

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
London, July 28 (AP)—Bold new attempts to fight cancer with peacetime radioactive atoms from atomic ovens were described today to the Sixth International Congress on Radiology.

Radioactive gold is injected by needle into the abdomen to combat cancer which has spread through the area.

Radioactive atoms of such common things as sodium bromine, or cobalt, are put inside plastic bags which then are placed inside cancer-ridden bladders.

These uses of radioactive atoms—news to most American scientists—were reported by Dr. D. W. Smithers of London and Dr. J. H. Muller of Zurich, Switzerland.

Smithers told of injecting salt solutions of radioactive gold into the abdomens of five persons with advanced cancer. One woman had cancer of her ovaries. The ovaries were removed but the cancer had spread to new spots in her abdomen, which was painfully distended with fluid.

Injections of gold reduced the pain and swelling. Six months later the woman felt fit and well and returned to work, he said.

But he cautioned that it was much too early to classify this recovery as a cure of the cancer.

Muller said radiating and radioactive injected in much the same way had benefited other women whose cancers had spread through the abdomen.

"2. Feel free to furnish all facts in your possession. Many times a small bit of information might furnish the data we are seeking. If you have any information of sabotage, espionage, or subversive activities, contact the F.B.I."

"3. The F.B.I. is interested in receiving facts; we are not interested in what a person thinks, but what he does which undermines our internal security. Avoid reporting malicious gossip or idle rumors."

"4. Do not circulate rumors about subversive activities, or draw conclusions from information you furnish the F.B.I. The data you possess might be incomplete or only partially accurate. By drawing conclusions based on insufficient evidence grave injustices might result to innocent persons."

"5. Once you have reported your information to the F.B.I., do not endeavor to make private investigations. This can best be done by trained investigators who have access to data acquired over the years on individuals engaged in subversive activities."

"6. Be alert. The greatest dangers against sabotage are the loyal American workmen who are producing the materials and weapons for our defense. They can be the sentinels of defense in every walk of life."

"7. The forces which are most anxious to weaken our internal security are not always easy to identify. Communists have been trained in deceit and secretly work toward the day when they hope to replace our American way of life with a Communist dictatorship. They utilize cleverly camouflaged movements, such as some peace groups and civil rights organizations, to achieve their sinister purposes."

"While they as individuals are difficult to identify—the Communist party line is clear. Its first concern is the advancement of Soviet Russia and the Godless Communist cause. It is important to learn to know the enemies of the American way of life."

eight persons goes to a hospital each year. In terms of a typical family of four, he noted, this means that some member is likely to become a hospital patient on an average of every two years.

Added proof of increasing reliance on hospitals was found in the fact that nearly two-thirds of those who replied said that they were members of the Associated Hospital Service of New York or similar voluntary plans for the prepayment of hospital bills.

Eight out of every 10 survey forms tabulated gave "No" as the answer to the question: "Would you favor compulsory insurance to cover the cost of hospital care as a substitute for voluntary plans which meet the same purpose?"

Mr. Schoonmaker reported that a study of the returns shows that nearly 83 percent characterize as "fair," "low," or "too low," the scale of charges set by The Kingston Hospital for patients who can pay their bills.

Replies to this question, he said, indicated a general recognition by the people the hospital serves that no enterprise has been more severely strained by rising costs than hospitals.

Many of the replies, which are still being received in quantity, are accompanied by comments or suggestions. Some of them are:

"Because of Blue Cross and other low-cost medical and hospital plans, I feel that many people are taking advantage of hospital care for ill that would otherwise have been untreated or put off until absolutely essential to their health."

"This will increase in the future as more people realize the importance of good care when ill. Therefore, I feel that we need to enlarge our hospital to take care of the demand. Both hospitals in Kingston are full to capacity at most times and have to sacrifice many things important to a patient's well-being and comfort."

"I think if the food in Kingston Hospital was improved it would be one of the finest hospitals in the state."

"During the past 33 years every member of my family, myself included, have been patients in your hospital, some several times. All three of our children were born in your hospital."

"It affords me a great deal of pleasure in commending your hospital and staff for the efficient and competent care and attention rendered to us on every occasion while confined in your hospital."

"Hospital care should be kept abreast of the times, but specialized care should pay for itself and not force general care to go up in cost."

"Having been a patient in this hospital less than a year ago, I will say it is my opinion that I received the best in surgical, medical and nursing care."

"As a chronic cardiac, I might say I have been reassured to feel that so good a hospital is available."

"I was a patient in the Kingston Hospital, and I have nothing but the best to say about everything in the hospital. I never had a want that was not attended to promptly. Both the student nurses and graduate nurses were always ready to do something for my comfort."

A second analysis of questionnaire returns will be made public next week.

Reinstatement Is Ordered by NLRB

Washington, July 28 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today ordered the reinstatement of miner L. H. Sidener of Canton, Ill., who was fired from his job and fined $50,000 by a United Mine Workers local after he tried to go back to work during the 1950 coal strike.

In a unanimous decision, the N.L.R.B. held the United Electric Coal Companies, U.M.W. Local 7455 and a U.M.W. subdistrict had violated the Taft-Hartley Law in their treatment of Sidener, who was president of the local at the time the dispute started.

The board ordered the coal firm and the unions to pay Sidener all the wages he had lost as a result of their action. The board also directed the unions not to force Sidener to return to the mine.

Sidener denied the union accusation, he charged in turn that Lewis had secretly passed along word that the miners were to ignore his instructions and stay off the job.

Lewis had sent out the back-to-work directive in accordance with an injunction issued by a Federal District Court here on Feb. 11. Sidener called the meeting Feb. 24. The strike continued into early March.

The union charged Sidener with trying to start a rival mine group after he had called a strike-ending meeting in response to an order from U.M.W. President John L. Lewis to return to the mine.
